JOB SEARCH

HOW TO SEARCH FOR A JOB

- Define your job search goals: Before starting the job search process, it's vital to know what type of job you're looking for, which industry, location, and salary range. Make a list of positions that interest you, and research the job requirements and qualifications.
- Create a professional Resume: A well-written resume provides recruiters with an insight into your professional experience, education, and interests. Highlight your achievements, skills, and work experience to make your resume stand out to a potential employer.
- Job portals: There are numerous job search apps/websites that aggregate job postings from many different employers. You can search for job openings, set up email alerts and apply for jobs directly from these platforms.
