ENFIELD INDEPENDENT

News focus: Knife crime in Edmonton

15th December 2008

LAST week the Government released figures claiming knife crime is down thanks to a nationwide celebrity-backed appeal.

But at the same time a major investigation in Edmonton shed a different light on the situation.

Gordon Brown says the Government's Tackling Knives Action Programme (TKAP) has led to fewer teenagers seriously wounded by knives and less young people carrying blades.

The initiative was launched in June, backed by stars including England footballer Rio Ferdinand, 30, and also claims to have resulted in stiffer penalties, including prison, for offenders caught carrying knives.

But a BBC investigation in Edmonton, where a spate of high-profile fatal stabbings have terrified residents this year, claims gang culture is fuelling knife-related offences in the area.

The investigation discovered there were two main gangs operating together in Edmonton: one is Dem Africans, or the Green Gang, and the other is its cadet force, the Grey Gang, or Grey City.

On New Year's Day, 17-year-old Henry Bolombi was killed, three weeks later Louis Boduka - or Usher - was stabbed through the heart. In February, 16-year-old Iyke Nmezu was attacked and died in hospital. All three were reported to be members of a gang.

Charity boss calls for better education around the dangers of carrying knives as Enfield sees an 8% year-on-year rise in the number of stabbings in the borough, reports James Cracknell

An anti-knife crime charity is calling for better education on the dangers of carrying a knife following a rise of incidents in Enfield and across London.

The latest figures from the Metropolitan Police show there were 611 knife offences of all types (including possession) across Enfield in 2023, up 6.8% on the previous year. Of this number, 148 involved injuries being inflicted, representing an 8% rise. This includes the use of any type of bladed or sharp instrument.

The borough now ranks among the worst in outer London for knife crime rates, with 1.8 offences per 1,000 people during 2023 – only surpassed by Croydon (2.1), Barking and Dagenham (2.5) and Haringey (2.8).

Separate figures released last month by the Office for National Statistics confirm that teenagers are over twice as likely to be fatally stabbed than they were ten years ago – with 82% of murders among teenage victims involving the use of a knife or sharp instrument, compared with 41% for those of all ages.

A number of serious stabbing incidents have taken place across Enfield in recent months, most shockingly the death of 16-year-old Taye Faik in Edmonton last October. To date, three people have been charged with Taye's murder – a 16-year-old girl and two men aged 18 and 20.

Last Friday night, a 66-year-old man was stabbed to death in Ponders End. A woman was arrested on suspicion of his murder yesterday (Sunday 3rd).

Last month, 37-year-old Bledi Petraj was also stabbed to death in Southgate near Grovelands Park. A 21-year-old man has been charged with murder.

In January, a 15-year-old boy was stabbed in the chest in Southbury Road and spent several days in hospital in a life-threatening condition. Four arrests were made but no-one has been charged. Later that month, a 17-year-old was also stabbed in Magpie Close, Enfield.
